

Recommended Reading List

We can all play a role to support literacy in our community. You can start today by donating a book that a child will be excited to read.

Giving children high quality books to read is a proven, effective way to improve reading scores. Studies show that book giveaways result in returns across a student's lifetime through higher graduation rates, increased earning potential, even reduced health care costs. These books are recommended by educators to help your donation make a lasting impact.
